SPORTING CLAYS

The world's fastest growing shooting sport, sporting clays were invented by bird hunters in England to practice their skills. At Vail's sophisticated facilities, state-of-the-art "trap" launchers throw biodegradable clay discs into the air to mimic the flight of birds. Whether a first timer seeking instruction or an experienced shooter, these courses will provide an exciting challenge for all skill levels.

RIDE & SHOOT

Take your group through thrilling trails, road-rally style. Each team gets their own Polaris RZR 4X4 off-road vehicle and proceeds to navigate through open fields and muddy trails on a giant scavenger hunt. Points are awarded to each team for spotting clues, such as bear claws on trees, etchings in aspen branches, and animals such as elk and deer. This tests team abilities through driving, navigation and speed. Follow up the road rally with a five-stand clay shooting course. Each team member has an opportunity for five shots at each stand. Not only is this entire event timed, but points are received for each target hit.
