For an Iftar feast with a difference head to SUQ Restaurant and Tent, where you’ll be able to take your pick of traditional Arabic dishes alongside international favourites at our buffet and exciting live cooking stations. Standout dishes include Lamb Ouzi, Arayes, and Seabass Sayadiah, as well as a ramble selection of Kofte, complete with cheese, mushroom, pachos or eggplant for a modern twist. If you fancy something more innovative, Chef Yahya’s Arabic Sushi won’t fail to disappoint, or why not be spoilt for choice with tantalising delights from our sushi and sashimi counter, a pasta station, an Indian station, and even a live BBQ grill.

Be sure to leave room for dessert – choose from 18 different homemade ice creams, a live crepe station, a designated cake counter, and even mountains of Turkish delight. SUQ’s Suhoor options are just as delectable with a dedicated a la carte menu of Middle Eastern cuisine, including shish kebab, served piping hot from the pizza oven. And for refreshments guests may order Ramadan juices, soft drinks, tea and coffee, plus shisha on request. Overlooking the lush gardens of the Resort, our cosy Arabesque-style tent boasts bright, joyful interiors, and the sounds of a live Oud musician complete the idyllic and memorable setting.

Ramadan, the Muslim holy month, is a time for worship and contemplation. It marks the day the Quran was sent down from heaven via the Angel Gabriel to Prophet Muhammad. To allow for complete devotion to their faith, Muslims must abide by stringent rules from dawn until sunset for an entire month. Eating, drinking and smoking are strictly forbidden during daylight. At sunset, the fast is broken by a meal named iftar; dates are traditionally eaten first, followed by a prayer and a sumptuous dinner. This year, we anticipate that Ramadan will start on Friday 26th May 2017 subject to the sighting of the moon, and continue for 30 days until Saturday, June 24th. The period ends with Eid al-Fitr, a three-day celebration that marks the conclusion of Ramadan. It is a festive and happy occasion – a time for feasts. Sweets, fruits and snacks are offered to all and gifts are often given to children.

Eid is a time to be thankful and generous.

Dubai is undoubtedly a tolerant and cosmopolitan city; however all guests should be aware of the importance of the Emirates’ cultural sensitivities, mainly over the holy month of Ramadan.

To provide assistance, we have created this easy to-follow guide:

• Do say ‘Ramadan Kareem’ to Muslim friends and colleagues.
• Do dress conservatively. Avoid going to public places such as shopping centers and parks wearing shorts, mini-skirts or sleeveless outfits.
• When departing the pool, please cover up to avoid any offense.
• Do smoke, drink and eat in the privacy of your hotel in the designated areas.
• Do be aware that office hours will change, which will in turn affect traffic patterns.
• Do avoid driving close to sunset. It can be hazardous during this time as the roads fill with people rushing to break their fast at Iftar celebrations.
• Do make reservations for dinner. Visitors and locals go out after Iftar to one of many Ramadan tents in the city to enjoy the evening and stay up until late at night chatting, eating and drinking special Ramadan delicacies.
• Do give to charities. Ramadan is renowned for its charitable nature.
• Do make the most of the community spirit and traditional entertainment to be found in the Iftar tents at the city’s hotels.
