FOUR SEASONS HOTELS AND RESORTS WHO WE ARE

We have chosen to specialise within the hospitality industry, by offering only experiences of exceptional quality. Our objective is to be recognised as the company that manages the finest hotels, resorts and residence clubs wherever we operate. We create properties of enduring value using superior design and finishes, and support them with a deeply instilled ethic of personal service. Doing so allows Four Seasons to satisfy the needs and tastes of our discriminating customers, and to maintain our position as the world’s premier luxury hospitality company.

WHAT WE BELIEVE

Our greatest asset, and the key to our success, is our people. We believe that each of us needs a sense of dignity, pride and satisfaction in what we do. Because we believe our guests depend on the united efforts of many, we are most effective when we work together cooperatively, respecting each other’s contribution and importance.

HOW WE SUCCEED

We succeed when every decision is based on a clear understanding of and belief in what we do and when we couple this conviction with sound financial planning. We expect to achieve a fair and reasonable profit to ensure the prosperity of the company, and to offer long-term benefits to our customers, our employees, our hotel owners and our shareholders.

Our company culture is based on a single basic principle, the Golden Rule – to treat others as you wish to be treated yourself. It’s a universal value, practised in every country, culture and religion. In fact, it’s the universality of the Golden Rule that gives Four Seasons culture its emotional power. Over more than 50 years in business, it has been the ethic that underlies every interaction with our guests, with our business partners and with each other. It is a way of life common to every Four Seasons employee, and will ensure our success in the next 50 years.

ATLANTA

Could Four Seasons Atlanta be the most child-friendly hotel in town? We’ve tailored loads of on-site amenities for keeping young ones entertained, from a living produce farm with two honeybee hives to child-size bathrobes and bedtime cookies. We even sought the input of the younger set in developing the children’s menu at Park 75.

Younger guests can look forward to a swimming pool, whirlpool, fitness center, and room service. A special kids menu offers selections such as “Ants on a Log” and Chicken and Stars Soup. Just beyond the hotel property, the Georgia Aquarium (fabled the world’s largest) mesmerizes with exotic whale sharks and beluga whales, while CNN Studio tours and the World of Coca-Cola museum are big draws for local families. Our Concierge is happy to assist with tickets and transportation, and children 18 years old and under always share their parents’ room at no extra charge.

When it’s a Residence Rental at Aviara, parents and children discover that their spacious surroundings of laid-back luxury bring ultimate relaxation and an abundance of memories. Your generous unit has room for every family member to unwind in his or her own comfort zone – and for everyone (including pets) to enjoy togetherness. The lush tropical views are wide and welcoming under sunny skies, inviting you to venture to the gardens, the golf course and the fitness centre. With theme parks and LEGOLAND, the zoo, and San Diego’s many other must-do activities, plus coming home to thoughtful Four Seasons service, this is the ultimate family vacation.
BALTIMORE

The Inner Harbor of 1812 was hardly an inviting destination with a barricade of sunken American ships, British naval ships pounding Fort McHenry, and enemy troops advancing on Baltimore. But today’s Inner Harbor offers exquisite dining and nightlife—and, steeped in history, is a wonder to explore. Tour the last and largest all-sail ship built by the U.S. Navy, the only ship afloat that fought back in the attack on Pearl Harbor, the submarine that sank the last two Japanese warships in World War II, and other fascinating ships. Or set sail yourself—rent a kayak, schooner or yacht. Enjoy a dinner cruise, a swashbuckling voyage on a pirate clipper ship, or an afternoon on a paddle steamer. Our Concierge can help you plan sightseeing adventures of suitably historic proportions.

Originally built in 1946, Casa Medina was the creative vision of artist and architect Santiago Medina Mejia. Salvaging architectural treasures from the colonial convents of San Agustin and Santo Domingo, he brought stone columns, flooring and hand-carved wooden doors to the building he planned as an exclusive enclave of beautifully appointed apartments. Meticulously restored, Four Seasons Hotel Casa Medina Bogotá has been declared a monument of cultural interest by the Colombian Ministry of Culture. Nestled in the heart of Bogotá’s financial district and Zona G, home to the best dining in the city, this historic gem features Spanish colonial accents set off by an eclectic blend of the artisanal and the contemporary, as well as adaptable meeting space to host the most prestigious meetings in the centre of Colombia’s business core.
BOSTON
Why do as the locals do? Because in Boston, locals know the most buzz-worthy culture, shopping and dining is within steps of Four Seasons – and within its walls. The Hotel faces the beautiful Boston Public Garden, home to the world-famous Swan Boat rides. Newbury Street – the Rodeo Drive of the East – and historic Beacon Hill are a stone’s throw away. And the city’s favourite place for dining and drinks is the Hotel’s own Bristol Restaurant and Bar, where locals gather for signature martinis, savoury hand-rolled pastas, dry-aged steaks and Boston’s best burger. The unique flavour of every ingredient is where it all begins. At Four Seasons Hotel Boston, following the locals is an inviting and mouthwatering plan.

BUENOS AIRES
A Beaux Arts landmark – one of Argentina’s finest – La Mansión affords a rare opportunity to inhabit a historic Buenos Aires love story. The masterpiece was a wedding gift from Félix de Álzaga Unzué for his young bride, Elena Peña Unzué. Importing materials by sea at the height of World War I was a significant challenge and expense. Nevertheless, the completed residence was revealed in 1920 in all its glory – including priceless stuccos and Italian marbles. Today La Mansión features seven suites, spacious reception lounges, a spa and a heated outdoor pool. Further enhanced through our multimillion-dollar restoration, the Tower offers 158 rooms and suites. Nothing less would do for the beloved of a dashing heir to a vast ranching fortune – or for guests of Four Seasons Hotel Buenos Aires.
CHICAGO
FOUR SEASONS HOTEL CHICAGO

Occupying floors 30 through 46 of one of Chicago's tallest skyscrapers, each of the 345 guest rooms and suites offers dramatic Lake Michigan and skyline views. Explore the bold collection of modern art in the chic lobby, and delight in creative and contemporary farm-to-table fare at Allium Restaurant and Bar. Refresh at the acclaimed Spa & Fitness Center at Four Seasons Hotel Chicago with a full-body treatment, and enjoy a relaxing sauna or plunge into the scenic skylight swimming pool. The Kids Clubroom, Ice Cream Man, Martin Man and other unexpected amenities make this hotel an ideal destination for families and couples alike.

DALLAS
AT LAS COLINAS

For centuries, local Native American tribes have celebrated the healing power of Colorado’s waters with offerings for the Spirits in the form of beads, clothing and talismans. Today, people come from all over the world to experience our remarkable Rocky Mountain waters. What brings such healing energy to the source of our mountain streams? Ancient alchemists described it as “the container of the light of life.” We know this elixir as Ormus. Made up of elements from precious metals, it encourages communication between spirit and substance — and infuses our signature high-altitude gemstone Ormus ritual. This three-hour treatment begins inside the inner sanctum of the spa with a therapeutical soak in Ormus salt water, and concludes with a 90-minute Ormus revitalizing oil massage. Let Ormus-enriched water and oils carry energy to every tissue in your body — no offerings for the Spirits necessary.

Twenty-five years ago, Waiaakuhi Pond on our southwestern edge was overgrown with weeds and mangrove forest. Reclaiming Waiaakuhi was the first piece in our initiative to establish cultural and ecological balance on the Resort's grounds. The delicate, time-consuming process included fringing native grasses along the pond's perimeter, building islands to protect nesting birds and stocking channels with indigenous fish.

Today, the pond is home to a thriving community of awa, 'ama'ama, moi, and 'opae 'ula, as well as the endangered ae'o, a native Hawaiian bird. And it’s not the only rich wildlife habitat to explore here. In King's Pond oceanside “aquarium,” thousands of tropical fish, including a spotted eagle ray, swim freely with guests. Our own bellmen — skilled fishermen all — have enhanced the mix by gathering blue trevally, leatherskin jacks, bird wrasses and the humuhumunukunukuapua’a, our state fish.
Lāna‘i was once one of the world’s largest pineapple plantations. Today, with just over 3,000 residents, Lāna‘i remains the Hawai‘i of yesterday—unspoiled, unhurried and unquelled. No stop lights, traffic or fast-food restaurants can be found here. Instead, you will find serenity, tradition and history; at one with excitement, adventure and discovery. Experience the unmatched diversity of activities that can be offered only by your own 90,000-acre island—champion golf, horseback riding, hiking, exploring and other off-road adventures. In addition, enjoy top-rated ocean sports, including snorkelling, scuba diving, whale watching or beachcombing on some of Hawaii’s most pristine beaches. Or you may simply prefer to be pampered in our world-class spa. The options are limitless; the choice is yours.

Along with a quintessential Hawaiian beach experience and the greens at Manele Golf Course, try a UTV or horseback ride along the lush upcountry trails near Lāna‘i City. Hike the forested hills of the Kihei highlands or head up to the Munro Trail. Explore Dole Park, shopping, dining and see how little has changed in the small plantation town of Lāna‘i City. Enjoy the Culture and Heritage Center, a charming community museum offering visitors an opportunity to learn about Lāna‘i’s unique Hawaiian history.

HAWAII
MAUI

Gigantic ceramic heads glazed with bold stripes? Welcome to Jun Kaneko’s formidable guardians of our art museum, heralds of a unique Hawaiian experience. Our collection — described by curator Julie Klein as “subliminally edgy” — features works by Hawaii-influenced artists who subversively and passionately depict the history and culture of Hawaii. Let artists’ voices guide you via a free podcast set to a soundtrack by Grammy award winner Keali‘I Reichel. Discover Bobbi Bennett’s muted waterfall photos and Mary Mitsuda’s avant garde mash-up of comics, letters, maps and movie strips. Hear the thoughts of painter Brian Isobe, wood artist Ron Kent and conceptual artist Ka‘ili Chun, among others. While the Resort’s collection is open to the public, some pieces receive a more private viewing. Hanging in a guest suite is Kloe Kang’s painting Wayfinder — a metaphorically rich reminder that the unexpected awaits in Hawaii.

HOUSTON
Who says a downtown business hotel can’t feel like a resort? The $4 million Four Seasons Hotel Houston pool is downtown’s only outdoor, resort-style escape. On the Hotel’s fourth level, the 65-foot oval plunge is lined with live oak, palm trees and other subtropical plants that thrive in Houston’s balmy climate. Brazilian ipê wood decking and Turkish travertine tile add to the experience, along with cabana-style patios and a soothing water wall. Attentive poolside service, from arranging your chaise to offering suntan lotion and fresh fruit, highlights the luxurious setting, making your sun-dappled leisure time an escape from daily cares. Access a full menu of “spa tapas” treatments – a mango mini massage or a coconut scalp soothie – to bring blissful indulgence to the comfort of your own cabana.
LAS VEGAS

There's a certain rush that comes of staying in an elegant Five Diamond gem so close to the Las Vegas excitement. Enjoy instant access to the vibrant entertainment of the Strip's endless shows, music and culinary adventures, just steps from your guest room within our resort-like hotel in the Mandalay Bay complex. Each of our 424 guest rooms is a glamorous setting in which to prepare for evenings on the town – or for off-site excursions to the desert, an otherworldly paradise of ruby-red rocks and sand-blasted canyons. Our Concierge can help you arrange a hike through the Valley of Fire or mountain biking through Red Rock Canyon. Balance activity with relaxation – unwind in the blissful comfort of your room or the spa. Our signature spa treatments incorporate the desert's bounty in transporting indulgences, including warm stones and cactus oil for massage treatments.

JACKSON HOLE

When it comes to variety in a vacation getaway, it's hard to beat Jackson Hole. In fact you might say the Resort is two destinations in one. In winter, you'll enjoy some of the best skiing in the world. We offer ski lessons and terrain for all levels, and special programs for kids. Looking for new experiences? This is the perfect place at which to enjoy activities you've always wanted to try. Go dog sledding, take a sleigh ride in the National Elk Refuge, snowshoe, cross-country ski, tube and snowmobile. In warmer weather, when the valley comes alive with lush foliage, enjoy hiking, stargazing, mountain biking, horseback riding, rafting, wildlife safaris and fly fishing. Set out with a professional guide on a beautifully handcrafted wooden boat. Standing on the boat, afloat on a picturesque river, cast your line and feel your cares evaporate.

MIAMI

Besides its beaches, ocean, untamed Everglades and Art Deco buildings, Miami is receiving acclaim for what’s indoors: art. Nowhere is this clearer than at Four Seasons Hotel Miami, which began collecting art a decade ago. In its lobby, two towering, bronze statues welcome you to Florida’s tallest building. The Colombian-born sculptor Fernando Botero is one of 40 Miami and Latin American artists – true to the city’s Latin rhythms – whose works are found throughout the Hotel. From renowned Venezuelan painter and installation artist Jesus Rafael Soto or Cuban multimedia artist Jose Bedia, to edgy up-and-comers such as Daniel Arsham, Tao Rey and Bhakti Baxter, we would be delighted to arrange an introduction should you wish to commission a work. Or perhaps a replica, in chocolate, of Botero’s Seated Woman might appeal to your taste buds?

MÉXICO, D.F.

A tranquil refuge from Mexico City’s energetic pace, the courtyard of Four Seasons Hotel México, D.F., was inspired by nearby Chapultepec Castle, a former presidential palace and sacred Aztec site. Located on Paseo de la Reforma, the Hotel is ideally located near the main business, shopping and residential areas in the city, as well as the Anthropology Museum. The best way to take it in? From a patio seat outdoors at Reforma 500 restaurant and Fifty MI5 – perhaps over unlimited Moët & Chandon bubbly at our signature Champagne Brunch, a Sunday institution. Or as many guest rooms and suites overlook the courtyard, simply open your window and enjoy the peace.

Discover the Caribbean as it was meant to be... where authenticity meets unforgettable excursions. Take adventure travel to a new level with Dive & Dine. A Nevisian dive master and a Four Seasons Resorts Nevis chef (a certified diver) will guide guests to a “secret” dive spot, home of Caribbean spiny lobsters. Underwater, guests lasso their own lobster. The activity is so popular, it was featured on the Travel Channel as one of the Caribbean’s Hottest Escapes. Guests then bring their lobsters back for a Resort beach barbecue, where they enjoy a lesson in grilling their own “catch of the day” and learn to make a glaze using peak-season local ingredients. Afterwards, experience the acclaimed antioxidant benefits of tea with a ritual from the new THÉMAÉ spa menu, found only in the Caribbean at Four Seasons Resort Nevis.

NEW YORK

Although opened in 1999, I.M. Pei’s Four Seasons Hotel New York qualified at the time for the list of great unfinished works, alongside Leonardo’s ‘Kubla Khan.’ Budget didn’t permit the opulent penthouse Pei envisioned for his 52-storey, limestone-clad tower. That changed when Ty Warner purchased the Hotel in 1999. Pei came out of retirement to create, in collaboration with acclaimed designer Peter Marino, the crown jewel of New York’s tallest Midtown luxury hotel. As much a suite as a multilayered work of art, the Ty Warner Penthouse offers spacious rooms, with cantilevered glass balconies and floor-to-ceiling, 360-degree views of Manhattan. Today, the Hotel bears the distinction of being I.M. Pei’s only complete (and, much to his satisfaction, fully completed) project in the western hemisphere.

Under blue skies, amid swaying palms, beside the gentle surf, when the island’s splendour calls your name, there’s no better response than a bike ride along the Intracoastal Waterway. Four Seasons Resort Palm Beach equips you fully, with our compliments. Coast past the par-3 golf course and magnificent seaside estates, your senses enlivened by crisp ocean air. Absorb the island’s sights and sounds. A local in riding boots reminds you of the polo match this Sunday. A father and son laugh as they fish off the pier. PUNTA MITA, MEXICO

Edging the Pacific along Mexico’s Riviera Nayarit, Four Seasons Resort Punta Mita understands water’s ageless allure – and invites all ages to love being above, beside, in or under it. Kids at Kids for All Seasons can learn about local culture, prepare Mexican handcrafts or have fun at a beach piñata party – while their parents enjoy margarita foot treatments in a cabana beside the Tamai adults-only pool. You can dive, snorkel, surf or fish. Downward-dog at a yoga class on a cliff above the waves. Drift on the Resort’s lazy river ride or share a kayak race. Adventurers can explore the Marietas Islands by private Four Seasons yacht. Both Jack Nicklaus–designed golf courses overlook the ocean, and at the Pacifico, the “Tail of the Whale” offers the world’s only natural island green accessible by amphibious golf cart. However you like the water, get ready to make a splash.

SAN FRANCISCO

San Francisco starts at Four Seasons, with insider access to the best the city has to offer. If it’s contemporary art, you don’t even need to go (just around the corner) to SFMOMA. Tour the work of more than 40 California artists throughout the Hotel: paintings, sculpture, prints and glass works by noted names such as Katherine Sherwood, Patrick Wilson, Darren Waterston and Anne Appleby. Should any piece inspire you, get the story behind it from our Concierge, or arrange for tours of the San Francisco Museum of Modern Art, the de Y oung Museum or Legion of Honor. And when you venture into San Francisco’s many neighbourhoods, an easy stroll from our central location, Four Seasons can arrange a more immersive experience. No matter what kind of connoisseur you are, let your explorations begin here.
SANTA BARBARA

Landscape Manager of Four Seasons Resort The Biltmore Santa Barbara may be Exequiel Grijalva’s official title, but in reality, he is much more. Zeke, as he is affectionately called, has been at the Resort for more than 30 years. He manages a team of 13 full-time gardeners, and tends to every inch of its 22 acres of lush gardens. But his crowning achievement (to date) has been the Resort’s guided botanical tour. Every week, Zeke introduces guests to rare specimens, including a Moreton Bay fig, dating from the 1800s. “Our gardens may be splendid,” says General Manager Karen Earp, “but it’s really Zeke that makes these tours so memorable.” Positive and enthusiastic, Zeke loves sharing his knowledge with guests, and his botanical tours are extremely popular. Book yours early!

SANTA FE

What can two do in Santa Fe? Everything under the sun! Hike together, fish raft white water, mountain-bike, rock-climb, ski, snowshoe – or hot-air balloon. Romance can surge with the adrenaline rush of extreme activities. But you needn’t go to extremes. Explore Santa Fe’s 400 galleries, hand in hand. Enjoy the opera. Or hike leisurely through piñons and ponderosa pines to share a picnic, serenaded by birdsong. Four Seasons even offers a blissful three-hour treatment – Mountain Spirit Initiation, which includes an adobe clay mask and a juniper-sage hot stone massage. After your indigenous Blue Corn and Honey Renewal, toast the stars in each other’s eyes with Champagne and truffles. Perfect for romance – in a cosy casita with a fireplace and mountain view – Four Seasons Resort Rancho Encantado Santa Fe makes it all happen, as if by magic.

ST. LOUIS

Stretching up, over and down the edges of Four Seasons Hotel St. Louis, a ribbon of 500,000 LED lights illuminates the night in 16 million colours. It’s our signature “light box,” inspired by the Hotel’s location at Lumière Place. Lumière is French for “light,” paying homage to the city’s French heritage. And light is a recurring theme at Four Seasons. Even in the spa, phototherapy lighting enhances treatments, with coloured glows gently transitioning from soothing hues to energising tones – or any combination that complements your spa experience. Under the big skies on the pool deck, with its views of the Mississippi River and Gateway Arch, you can even consider a massage in the comfort of your chaise longue. Cooling cucumber for your eyes, a refreshing chilled oshibori towel and lavender aromatherapy ensure your other senses feel equally enlightened.

VAIL

There is no off season at Four Seasons Resort Vail. As blankets of snow give way to fields of wildflowers, the trails become a mountain-biking paradise. Or you can skip the lifts and trails entirely for a day of rock climbing. Vail’s alpine meadows and spruce forests offer hikers sightings of black bears, bighorn sheep, elk – or kaleidoscopes of wildflowers in the nearby Nature Center. “There are so many ways to see Vail – on foot or horseback, from the back seat of a Hummer truck, while paddling down a river, or from the basket of a hot-air balloon,” suggests Mark Herron, General Manager. We can easily arrange it all before you arrive: Fly-fishing lessons, whitewater rafting, sporting clay shooting – even your hiking boots and binoculars. Then, do anything but sit back and enjoy Vail’s great outdoors.

TORONTO

A posh enclave favoured by Hollywood elite during the Toronto International Film Festival, Yorkville is all about star power. In the 1960s, famous musicians get their start in coffee houses on leafy streets that, today, are home to a galaxy of restaurants, shops and galleries. Luxury retailers line nearby Bloor Street, with trendy boutiques around the corner. Minutes away are the Royal Ontario Museum’s famed dinosaur exhibit, Frank Gehry-designed Art Gallery of Ontario, and ballet or opera at the Four Seasons Centre for the Performing Arts. Glamour radiates at the hotel, too, in Toronto’s largest luxury hotel spa and the culinary magic of international restaurateur and chef Daniel Boulud. Your first stop should be our savvy concierge desk. Then prepare to sparkle.

For four decades, Four Seasons Hotel Vancouver has been renowned for its spacious guest rooms. Now it enjoys a reputation for something tiny: its carbon footprint, one of the smallest of any luxury hotel. To see this in action, flick a light switch. That welcoming glow comes from energy-efficient bulbs, some with a lifespan of 40 years. Even our complimentary newspapers arrive in eco-chic bags. Executive Chef Ned Bell is local, too, born in BC’s Okanagan Valley. His “globally inspired, locally created” cuisine is one of many reasons why Four Seasons Hotel Vancouver is one of the few hotels to receive the highest possible rating for environmental and social stewardship.

WASHINGTON, DC
At the nearby White House, administrations come and go. Fortunately for guests of Four Seasons Hotel Washington, DC, Concierges have no term limits. For 36 years, Chief Concierge Javier Loureiro has fielded thousands of requests, some more memorable than others. One guest wished to tour the District on his motorcycle, garaged on the West Coast. Loureiro had it taken apart, shipped and then reassembled in DC. He coordinated another guest’s relocation from DC to Kuwait. Sometimes, guests turn to Loureiro long after their stay. One Middle Eastern client requested Loureiro’s help in arranging an around-the-world itinerary for his newly married brother. On the honeymoon, a problem arose in Hawaii. Rather than call the front desk there, the groom phoned his brother in the Middle East, who reached out to Loureiro. The situation was rectified immediately.
WHISTLER

It takes an atlas to catalogue the runs of Whistler-Blackcomb's vast terrain. Still, the list of trails pales in comparison to Sidecut's compendium of dry rubs, with seven house-made rubs on the restaurant's menu. For groups of eight to 16 people, Sidecut offers an hour-long blending session under the guidance of our chefs, and full access to our wall of hand-dried spices. Find the perfect match for your taste buds, name your signature recipe and receive a bottle of your rub to take home. But first, enjoy your unique blend at Sidecut and give your dining companion a case of "entrée envy"—even if you both order the bone-in braised bison short ribs or Lois Lake steelhead trout.

ALEXANDRIA AT SAN STEFANO
Founded by Alexander the Great in 331 BC, Alexandria was Egypt’s capital for a millennium. When Julius Caesar, and then Mark Antony, wooed Cleopatra, this city near the mouth of the Nile vied with Rome as centre of the universe. Caesar and Antony fell in love with Cleo’s city, too – each making it his home – and waves of conquerors from around the Mediterranean knew its importance. Only a few antiquities stand as evidence of the ancient invaders, and scientists still search for Cleopatra’s lost tomb. However, the cosmopolitan charm that gave the city the epithet “Pearl of the Mediterranean” is clear on every street corner. Share Cleopatra’s view as you laze by the seaside pool at Four Seasons in upscale San Stefano. With a 1,001 Nights treatment in our spa, you might fall in love with Alexandria.

BUDAPEST

Once an opulent Imperial metropolis, Budapest is Central Europe’s most beautiful city, with architecture from medieval and Baroque to strikingly modern. Gresham Palace, home of Four Seasons Hotel Gresham Palace Budapest, is itself a landmark, restored to its Art Nouveau splendour with the help of a team of visionary restoration artisans. The Hotel is right at the Pest end of the famed Chain Bridge, which straddles the Danube River. Pest’s riverside promenades and side streets let you discover the booming arts scene and café culture that make this romantic city tick. Stroll across to Buda and the Castle District, the city’s oldest, most atmospheric quarter. You’ll pass Margaret Island, the former royal hunting ground, now a setting for festivals and green gardens. BEIRUT

Not only is The Roof at Four Seasons Hotel Beirut the highest pool deck and lounge in the city, it’s also the most fun. Since opening, this chic 26th-floor lounge – with its unbeatable, almost mythic views – has redefined Beirut’s legendary nightlife scene. Take in the wrap-around mountain, city and Mediterranean Sea views and, as Hotel General Manager Stefan Simkovics says, “Enjoy the feeling of being on top of the world.” Sunsets are intoxicating. As night falls, find yourself under a canopy of stars while choosing from a delightful Asian-inspired tapas menu, from sashimi to dumplings and satays. There’s an impressive selection of classics, vintage wines, signature cocktails and fresh smoothies.

The Roof has an all-week entertainment programme, which is so popular it’s best to reserve ahead. Beirut is again one of the world’s most vibrant destinations, and The Roof is its crown jewel.

CAIRO
AT THE FIRST RESIDENCE

The Earl Grey may be piping hot and the dessert menu formidable, but in the Tea Lounge at Four Seasons Hotel Cairo at The First Residence, an architectural feature gets all the attention: the circular stained-glass window known as The Ocular. Designed by local artists, it turns an intense blue with sunlight, taking on a reddish hue as the sun retires. The Ocular is an example of a “rose window,” whose early forms date to Roman times. What makes a rose window? Most experts agree on the defining characteristics: glass segments divided by mullions and tracery. Whether you encounter one at Notre Dame Cathedral in Paris or New York City’s Cathedral of St John the Divine — or over tea at Four Seasons in Cairo — the artistry of a rose window is captivating and sublime.

CAIRO
AT NILE PLAZA

Hotel lobby or art gallery? At Four Seasons Hotel Cairo at Nile Plaza, the lines can blur. The Hotel sits in the heart of Garden City, a district renowned since the early 1900s for exquisite Belle Epoque and Art Deco architecture. Here lived Cairo’s elite, their soirées the talk of society life and their elegant homes showcases for exquisite artworks and artefacts. Today, those refined times are revived as art and society come together once again. At the Hotel, fresh, modern décor is the backdrop for an impressive 200-piece art and sculpture collection. Original works from 25 leading Egyptian artists offer guests rare insight into the wealth of art in Egypt. Guests can enjoy the art collection at Four Seasons Cairo at Nile Plaza either in a guided art tour or at their own pace.

DAMASCUS

About the world’s oldest inhabited city, Mark Twain wrote, “To Damascus years are only flitting trifles of time. She measures time not by days and months and years, but by the empires she has seen rise and crumble.” The Telegraph’s Tim Jepson recently called Damascus “ravishing,” and its people “kind, cultured, tolerant, hospitable, courteous and well-educated.” Four Seasons Hotel Damascus is in the heart of this thriving city, named UNESCO’s Arab Capital of Culture in 2008. Explore this extraordinary place where 1,000-year-old palaces set the stage for international pop concerts. If you thirst for more, drive the few hours to Beirut or Amman to soak up all that is new in the old Middle East.

CASABLANCA

For a breath of fresh air, rediscover the glamour and serenity of the White City at Four Seasons Hotel Casablanca, located directly seafront on the vibrant Corniche. Wake up in the morning to savour the beauty of the ocean and the peacefulness of lush gardens from your guest room’s private balcony. Rejuvenate with a signature Spa treatment or simply stroll along the shore as the Atlantic caresses the sand, relaxing as you listen to the gentle sound of the waves. Just a short drive from the Hotel are world-class shopping, the city’s business district and the landmark Hassan II Mosque. Back at the Hotel, indulge in creative dining with culinary delights by Thierry Papillier. Enjoy cocktails poolside or in the Lobby Lounge as you take in spectacular sunset views. It’s a lifestyle like no other in the heart of Casablanca’s coast.

Doha

A laconium is a dry sauna invented by ancient Romans to relax and ready their soldiers for battle. Less extreme in temperature than a sauna, it gives the full benefits of heat-based treatments: improved blood flow and metabolism, and relief from mental and physical stress. The Roman laconium was usually circular with a domed brass roof that was raised or lowered to adjust the temperature. Though often functional in appearance, some were quite fancy, with blue ceilings and stars to mimic the night sky. Laconium beds are tiled loungers that enhance the experience by radiating ambient heat – perfect places to stretch out (and perhaps fall asleep!). The Spa and Wellness Centre at Four Seasons Hotel Doha features both a laconium and laconium beds. By themselves or combined with other treatments, they’re a great way to relax without going to extremes.

FLORENCE

The grounds of Four Seasons Hotel Firenze are the exclusive Giardino della Gherardesca, one of Florence’s largest private gardens. This Renaissance creation by politician, author and historian Bartolomeo Scala has evolved into a secluded urban sanctuary. Trees that have stood for hundreds of years are testaments to the endurance of the garden and city, and their shade is perfect for a midday nap or stroll. Past lawns, picturesque walkways and ancient statuary, the gardens stretch between the 500-year-old Palazzo della Gherardesca and its Conventino. Both historic buildings house guest rooms and suites, many of which bear original frescos, friezes and reliefs. Views of the Duomo and Florentine rooftops from many areas of the Hotel remind you that you aren’t tucked away in a distant resort, but are steps from bella Firenze.

HAMPSHIRE

Set within 500 acres of rolling Hampshire downs, Four Seasons Hotel Hampshire is an archetypal Georgian country manor, an hour from London or Southampton. Near its English heritage–listed gardens, swans float on the historic Basingstoke Canal which, in 1798, Sir Henry Mildmay rerouted through the park so the then-working canal wouldn’t disturb his peace. Our guests are the beneficiaries, as they stroll its banisters or lounge on the Hotel’s canal boat. Equestrian facilities house horses and ponies, with trainers on site. Guests can go fishing, play croquet or tennis, and take part in clay pigeon shooting, falconry, dog walking, cycling or country hikes. Top-notch golf is a stone’s throw away. The Estate’s original 18th-century stable block is home to a luxurious spa, 20-metre indoor conservatory swimming pool and outdoor vitality pool, a tranquil source of well-being. This Four Seasons country getaway occupies a niche of its own.

ISTANBUL

Connecting the Black Sea and Sea of Marmara, the narrow Strait of Bosphorus laps against the private dock of Four Seasons Hotel Istanbul at the Bosphorus. The world’s second-busiest international shipping lane, it sees traffic of 50,000 vessels annually – from ferries to fishing boats, cruise ships to gargantuan freight barges. Navigating its crowded, swiftly flowing currents requires finesse. Good thing there’s chartered vessel service from Four Seasons via water taxi or private boat. Magical cruises from here showcase old summer palaces, the Rumeli and Anadolu fortresses, private museums like Sabancı, bridges illuminated by night, and, if you’re lucky, a pod of playful dolphins. It may surprise you that dolphins make this bustling waterway their home, but some call them the “street children” of the Bosphorus. Nimble and resourceful, they never cease to delight visitors to Istanbul.

ISTANBUL
AT SULTANAHMET

With bread and water in lieu of room service and a stone slab for a bed, a prison cell is far removed from luxury. Yet, a century ago, Four Seasons Hotel Istanbul at Sultanahmet was a prison. In 1919, it was designed as an exemplar of Turkish neoclassical architecture, with pointed arches, ornate tiles and dramatic towers. Its creator, whose portrait appears on the Turkish 20-lira banknote of 2009, was a prominent architect. Famous artists and politicians were numbered among its detainees. A key setting in the 1932 novel "Stamboul Train," the prison stood empty from the late 1960s, except for a stint as a military jail. Four Seasons gave it new life in 1996 – and the rest is history.

JOHANNESBURG

Johannesburg is a vibrant city undergoing an urban revival worth exploring, with cafés and restaurants, designer boutiques and a growing artistic culture throughout its many districts. The Parks remains one of the city’s wealthiest neighbourhoods, with its lush forests, wide winding roads and grand colonial houses. Tucked among these exquisite surroundings, Four Seasons Hotel The Westcliff, Johannesburg, the only hillside hotel in the city, boasts a luxurious allure to match its prestigious location. Most guest rooms at this iconic urban resort overlook nearly 80 kilometres of the world’s largest man-made forest – a welcoming respite from hectic business affairs or busy days spent exploring. It’s the perfect city resort to enjoy after memorable safaris in the region.

Upon crossing the threshold of the redesigned Four Seasons Hotel London at Park Lane, one is struck by the dramatic interiors and the “clubby contemporary” effect that is everything a modern hotel strives to be: quietly glamorous, chic and unique. Guest rooms and suites are finished in lacquered woods with polished chrome fittings, and marble fireplaces abound throughout the Hotel. With huge black and white Vogue magazine photographs transforming the guest corridors into an art gallery, and a three-tiered crystal chandelier and a pink piano in the lounge, the theatrical stage is set. It is a place of singular character, yet from foyer to the rooftop spa the look is decidedly British.

In 1922, Prime Minister David Lloyd George opened Ten Trinity Square as the headquarters of the Port of London Authority. Today, the meticulously restored Neoclassical building overlooking the River Thames is home to Four Seasons Hotel London at Ten Trinity Square. Set in the heart of the world’s greatest business and financial centre, with views of the Tower of London, a UNESCO World Heritage site, the Hotel is only a short distance from the city’s most appealing highlights. Catch a world-class performance in exciting West End, or stay in for a meal prepared by a Michelin chef at one of the Hotel’s restaurants. MAURITIUS AT ANAHITA

The designers of the golf course at Four Seasons Resort Mauritius at Anahita, led by South African golf pro Ernie Els, wanted the course to exist in unity with nature. Each of the 18 holes is cleverly integrated into the landscape, a lush tropical mix of leafy vegetation set off by a crystal-clear lagoon and green-covered mountains. Take advantage of complimentary unlimited golf against a beautiful backdrop of cruising catamarans and swaying palm trees – a view that all guests enjoy. A daily initiation at the driving range offers a relaxed and fun introduction to the game, welcoming any guest who wants to master the perfect swing. Following the sporting action, unwind at the clubhouse with a local rum cocktail and sweeping views of the 18th green and Indian Ocean beyond.

MARRAKECH

The use of mud and clay in body scrubs and facial masks is hardly new. A visit to Marrakech, however, will show you a different take on this centuries-old beauty treatment. Here, ghassoul is the norm. This reddish-brown natural clay from the Atlas Mountains of eastern Morocco has been used for over 1,400 years by everyone from ancient nobility to commoners. Rich in silica, magnesium and calcium, dry ghassoul is often mixed with essential oils and rose or orange-flower water and used on the face and hair or as an all-over cleansing treatment. It’s also a traditional Moroccan wedding gift, along with henna and milk. Find it at a souk (market) or experience it as part of a couple’s cleansing ritual at our spa. It won’t be long before you become a devotee of this simple, effective beauty staple.
MOSCOW

Occupying a landmark location adjacent to Red Square and the Kremlin, with views of the breathtaking cityscape and the colourful domes and golden spires of St Basil’s Cathedral, Four Seasons Hotel Moscow is a modern replica of the legendary Hotel Moskva, originally opened in 1935. The Hotel’s distinctive silhouette features a central portico with a row of classical columns, framed by two asymmetrical wings. According to legend, each wing was an individual design proposal, submitted to Joseph Stalin with the expectation that he would choose one. However, because Stalin placed his signature in the middle of the page, it was impossible to know which design he had selected. No one wanted to question the leader, so it was decided that both designs would be built – one on the right, one on the left – resulting in the asymmetrical façade, which is immortalised in a line drawing on the label of Russia’s prestigious Stolichnaya vodka.

MILAN

In the restaurant world, there’s an art to knowing where to find just the perfect thing. It may be a culinary prize, like the edible fungus called the truffle – an elusive treasure dug from underground lairs and served delectably, while in season, at our La Veranda restaurant. Or it may be something that is literally art itself. On the brick-red walls of our Camino Room and Il Foyer, a popular cocktail and dining destination for the pre- and post-opera crowd, hang framed sketches that one might easily overlook. They’re the work of Filippo Peroni (1809–78), principal set and costume designer at La Scala opera house. Then relax and immerse yourself in the urban Spa designed by the celebrated architect Patricia Urquiola.

You would think the staff would be used to the amazing sights at Four Seasons Hotel George V, Paris. Every day they pass by exquisite paintings, lovingly restored Flemish tapestries, antique furniture ranging from Art Deco to 18th-century, and numerous objets d’art – some glittering, others lavish, all intriguing. From the rebuilt and restored fireplaces in the salons to the paintings and sculptures on every wall, in every common space, guest room and suite, the Hotel is adorned with wonderful art. The tapestry draws the eye away from the bustle of the streets outside the windows. Each of the staff has a favourite piece in this extraordinary creative treasury – and each loves to see guests discover their own favourites in the Hotel’s collection.

PRAGUE
In Prague’s Old Town, one of the most scenic historic districts in the world, all the important architectural movements of the last 500 years are on display. Intent on celebrating Czech traditions while creating a thoroughly modern hotel, restaurant and event space, we hired Czech architectural practice Dum a Mesto to unite four diverse buildings into a single destination. The result? Incredible, carefully preserved Old World details, with 21st-century convenience, infrastructure and technology. The design of each room reflects the architecture of its building, be it Classical, Renaissance, Baroque or Modern. Our guest room interiors – by renowned French designer Pierre-Yves Rochon – are refined, relaxed and stylish. At this one-of-a-kind hotel that is so attuned to history, you’ll also find a particularly timeless feature: Ours is the only five-star hotel with views of the Prague Castle and Vltava River.

Kingdom Centre is the tallest skyscraper in Saudi Arabia, towering 302 metres. You’ll find Four Seasons Hotel Riyadh occupying the 30th to 50th floors, steps from the shops and eateries of this prestigious and iconic building. The Kingdom Tower, constructed at a cost of $1.77 billion Saudi Arabian riyals (US$1 billion) has been called ‘the necklace’ of the city due to the circular opening at its apex. It is home to the world’s tallest mosque, on the 77th floor, as well as a special ladies-only shopping area on the second floor. High-speed elevators whisk visitors to an observation deck for a dizzying panoramic view of the city. All quite impressive – and not only because the Kingdom Tower is as tall as 65 one-storey homes stacked atop one another.

SEYCHELLES

With its tree-bark roof, the dwelling depicted in The Swiss Family Robinson is a far cry from the luxury of the treetop villas at Four Seasons Resort Seychelles, but the architects each took the same approach: using simple, locally sourced materials wherever possible, in a way that complements the incredible natural setting. The interiors of our villas are inspired by rustic Seychellois and French colonial styles. Simple, whitewashed timber slat walls allow the carefully curated collection of objects d’art to sing. The veranda, daybed pavilion and infinity plunge pool set off unencumbered views of tropical greenery, secluded white-sand beaches and the azure waters of the Indian Ocean. With only 67 villas and suites on a 180-hectare site, nestled in the natural amphitheatre of Petite Anse, the Resort is a haven of untouched nature and peaceful isolation.

SHARM EL SHEIKH

Snorkeling in the Red Sea is an exhilarating rush, with colourful animal life on all sides. Some species are doubly distinguished by the uniqueness of their names. The giant squirrelfish, brilliant red, is easy to sight. The masked butterfly fish has a blue spot near its eye and bristle-like teeth. The teeth of the rusty parrotfish, on the other hand, look like a bird’s beak. These are just a few of the thousands of species that enliven the Red Sea, where diversity is helped along by gentle, regular currents and stable temperatures. You’ll thrive here, too – at our Moorish-inspired resort oasis at the southern tip of the Sinai Peninsula, where lush greenery, swimming, spa, sand-swept landscapes and turquoise views sparkle under year-round sunshine. ST PETERSBURG

Once a residence for Princess Lobanova-Rostovskaya, our 19th-century royal palace becomes your own base in St. Petersburg. This stately building is the work of architect Auguste de Montferrand, assisted by Italian sculptor Paolo Triscorni. It is popularly known as the “House With the Lions,” honouring the two white marble lions guarding its main entrance – a St. Petersburg landmark depicted in period paintings and works of literature, including Alexander Pushkin’s famous 1833 poem, “The Bronze Horseman.” Heritage interiors have all been painstakingly restored to their original 1820 beauty, while newly appointed areas reflect Imperial Russian style. St. Petersburg sparkles with romantic, Doctor Zhivago-like magic in winter, and the city comes alive with vibrant activity in the mild summers. Year-round, your majestic home base is warmly welcoming and relaxing – with its four-level luxury spa, and drinking and dining options fit for modern royalty.

BORA BORA

Even before you enter the spa at Four Seasons Resort Bora Bora, you may feel you’ve reached your quotient of peaceful bliss. After all, few things are more soothing to the spirit than stunning South Pacific views, sand-fringed islets enclosing a turquoise lagoon, and one of the most immaculate beaches in French Polynesia. But when it comes to pampering, the splendour of this Tahitian setting is only the warm-up act. Our spa therapists restore mind, body and soul to a heavenly state. Consider our Kahaia Haven Ritual. This unique spa experience, ideal for sharing with a loved one, begins with a skin-smoothing cleansing using legendary Tahitian black pearl powder and fragrant native vanilla. Next comes an exquisite massage of your choice, concluding with a holistic and de-stressing Water and Light Facial. With ancient traditions and Western practices blended for holistic healing, our spa in paradise is the epitome of pampering.

CHIANG MAI

We can only imagine the rigours involved in the lives of ancient Thai warriors. But after a day of riding elephants, trekking through temples or exploring caves – or exclusive shops – you’ll be glad to know that the warriors’ cure for aches and fatigue awaits you at our serene temple spa. Ytsara Samunprai is a traditional Thai treatment. Created for returning soldiers, it has remained unchanged since the 18th century. Your treatment uses the same aromatic herbs and poultices to open pores, release a deep medicinal heat and relieve every ounce of tension. The transformation begins when you step into our spa, where flowers and herbs from our garden enliven the senses. Surrender to 120 minutes of deep stretches and applied organic poultices, native herbs, spices and aromatic oils created through traditional ritual methods – and to a time-honoured state of bliss.

GOLDEN TRIANGLE
THAILAND

Have no doubt: You’ll be an elephant lover by the time you leave the Golden Triangle. Upon arrival at the camp, you will receive a traditional mahout outfit. First, learn the golden rules of how to behave around elephants, then a few vocal commands, then how to get on and off safely. It’s easy to bond with the elephants. Accompanied by the elephant’s own mahout, get these basics down and prepare for your first ride. Elephant Pang Bounma is especially patient. She waits while her new rider makes several awkward attempts to mount. Finally, she stretches out her foreleg to make a step, and her rider climbs up. The elephants may look mountainous, but these are gentle giants. They’re clever, too. Upon reaching the river, Pang Bounma carries her rider safely across so they can both enjoy a refreshing splash of water.

GUANGZHOU

Guangzhou is Old Canton, charmingly so. Narrow streets, pushcart vendors, and the corner bicycle repairman are still the norm in this city of 15 million people. Guangzhou is also energy and change. Each is vibrantly abundant here and clearly visible in the city’s bold architectural statements. Nowhere are these better represented than in our neighbourhood, Pearl River New City. As you would expect, Four Seasons takes prime position, occupying the top third of the 103-storey IFC Guangzhou, one of the tallest skyscrapers in the world. Views are spectacular from floors 69 to 100, be they the timeless Pearl River by day or the frenetic neon cityscape by night. This is New Guangzhou – in the midst of Old Canton.

HANGZHOU AT WEST LAKE

If there’s one element that encapsulates the Hangzhou experience, it’s Longjing tea. This delicate green tea with multiple health benefits is native to Hangzhou, where it is still produced by hand. We make the precious leaves the centrepiece of many of our amenities. Every day, Longjing is served in traditional fashion in the Lobby Lounge. It also accompanies many a meal at our specialty restaurant, Jin Sha. And as if that weren’t enough, the tea makes its way into our signature spa rituals, too. One involves a soothing soak in 60,000 tea leaves and a jade spring bath. Another uses tea in a black-stone foot wash and an emperor’s tea wrap. And, of course, guests can enjoy a wonderfully relaxing massage with Longjing-infused oil. With so many uses, it’s always teatime at Four Seasons Hotel Hangzhou at West Lake.

JAKARTA

Four Seasons Hotel Jakarta is temporarily closed for a complete renovation. It is being fully transformed to provide guests with the city's most exceptional hotel experience. There is one thing that will not change: Four Seasons will still welcome guests to the same excellent location. Situated in the heart of Jakarta's central business district, the Hotel enjoys easy access to the airport, the convention centre and the new Jakarta International Exhibition and Congress Centre. Even with its proximity to these business amenities and major corporate entities, Four Seasons Hotel Jakarta is an oasis within the CBD. Between meetings, guests can enjoy Jakarta's exceptional dining and shopping opportunities, or embark on a cultural exploration at the renowned National Museum of Indonesia.

KOH SAMUI

Truly romantic evenings are thought to unfold just once in a blue moon, but at Koh Samui, romance comes as reliably and as beautifully as the sunset. While the sun sinks, torches light the way to your private beachside cove for a candlelit dinner for two. The Thai or Western menu includes wines and a glass of Champagne on arrival. Live Thai music inspires your creation of memories to last a lifetime. At evening’s end, release a khom loy – a traditional Thai paper lantern – into the sky to carry your good luck wishes to the moon. Will your romantic bliss be lit by a true blue moon? A blue moon is a second full moon within a single calendar month, a phenomenon that occurs every two and a half years. A more likely lunar connection: You’ll be over the moon with happiness.
LANGKAWI
MALAYSIA

Kilim Karst Geoforest Park is a 550 million-year-old maze of limestone cliffs and tangled mangroves that is home to monkeys and eagles, colourful fiddler crabs, and fish that walk. This ecological wonderland is just minutes from Four Seasons Resort Langkawi – your serene, artfully designed base from which to make a wholesome connection with nature. Cruise into the heart of the threatened forests with our resident naturalists on a Mangroves & Eagles boat safari. Marvel at majestic kites and mischievous macaques in experiences up close and unforgettable. Back at the Resort, further embrace the UNESCO Geopark surroundings with rock climbing and archery beneath the tropical canopy or excursions to waterfalls and sea caves, rainforest-clad peaks and fishing villages. Don't miss the Mangroves & Monkeys cruise for little adventurers – an exciting insight into one of the world's most undervalued ecosystems.

KYOTO
Surrounded by peaceful, lush gardens and historic temples, Four Seasons Hotel Kyoto offers a gateway to the vibrant city. Located in the heart of the scenic Higashiyama district, the Hotel is surrounded by some of the city's best dining and shopping destinations, as well as a thriving arts scene. Explore the pre-modern Japanese and Art/design on display at the Kyoto National Museum, or tour the famed Kiyomizu-Dera temple, one of the historic monuments of ancient Kyoto. The nearby Gion district is one of the most well-known geisha districts in Japan, featuring old wooden buildings, exclusive restaurants and the occasional geisha in zori sandals and exquisitely detailed kimonos. Back at the Hotel, the traditional Japanese tea house—nestled among the Hotel's gardens and designed by master tea house architect Ryo Suke Yamamoto—is a calming oasis amid the hustle and bustle of the modern world.
MACAU

The Cotai Strip – known as Asia’s Las Vegas for its world-class casinos and luxury shopping – may be the last place you expect to find an oasis. But look closer: Four Seasons Hotel Macao, in the heart of the district, is the epitome of resort-style relaxation. Consider the five outdoor pools that draw couples, families and kids to swim and sunbathe in the daytime. As evening draws near, look closer still – poolside – and find a serene world-of-your-own escape. Upon advance request, we’re pleased to arrange a romantic dinner for two, perfectly alone, in your own luxurious, candlelit private cabana. The only people you’ll see are our impeccable waitstaff bringing out each fresh and delectable new course and intuitively filling your wine glasses. Immersed in your intimate culinary oasis-within-an-oasis, you can be forgiven for thinking you have the entire city to yourself.

REGENT

Harmony begins outside Regent Singapore (A Four Seasons Hotel) – quite literally, for your approach is graced by a sculpture of that name. The Harmony Fountain by Stephanie Scuris is the perfect marriage of moving water, curved metal and sensitive lighting. The fountain blends in beautifully with the Hotel’s tranquil setting and helps to create an urban oasis. From its position at our entrance, this scintillating sculpture heralds our promise of a balanced and energising environment. The interior of the Hotel plays with notions of indoor and outdoor space by bringing Singapore’s tropical landscape into the light-filled, soaring atrium. Unique interior décor that reflects Southeast Asia’s rich heritage, all 440 guest rooms and suites provide luxuriously spacious accommodations.

SYDNEY

For the guest who wants an Australian immersion, a stay at Four Seasons Hotel Sydney is the perfect place to start. Get a taste of the land down under at Grain, the Hotel’s artisan bar serving its own bespoke beer, or at restaurateur Mark Best’s Pei Modern, located on the ground floor of the Hotel. The restaurant, founded on the “bistronomie” concept, serves locally sourced seasonal produce and wines. You can also grab a gourmet sandwich by the pool at The Cabana before heading out to enjoy the Sydney Harbour by seaplane, boat or sub-aqua-diving, or on your way to explore The Rocks cultural precinct, shopping and other attractions. The Li’ya Mala Mayi body treatment at the on-property Endota Spa, with its Australian desert salt and aromatic oil exfoliation and mineral mud cocoon, will help you really settle into the destination. When it’s time to turn in for the night, contemporary luxury accommodations await, with views overlooking Sydney’s city skyline, or the mesmerising Sydney Harbour, dotted with Sydney’s crown jewels, the Harbour Bridge and Opera House.

TOKYO AT MARUNOUCHI

Step into Four Seasons Hotel Marunouchi and be immersed in a unique pairing of art and setting. Chosen by Glenn Pushelberg of renowned design firm Yabu Pushelberg, our wide-ranging permanent collection was selected specifically for its aesthetic interplay with the Hotel’s modern design. The artists represented range from established art world titans to previously undiscovered talents. Feel how the haunting photographs of birds by Israel-born Michal Rovner add stark weightiness to their spatial environment. Note how the black-and-white prints on Thai mulberry paper—the work of Brooklyn-based artists Mike and Doug Starn—advance the Hotel’s experimental photography motif while reinforcing its design and colour schemes. Every day of your stay offers fresh glimpses of this striking collection in settings unlike any gallery you’ve ever visited—and new experiences of a curatorial marriage of art and interiors rivalling museums around the world.

TIANJIN

In Tianjin, China’s fourth largest city, architectural reminders of its days as a European colony peacefully coexist with centuries-old temples and the cityscape of modern China. Four Seasons Hotel Tianjin is a short walk from the city’s business district and its concession precincts, where examples of Italian, French, British, German and Spanish architecture are evident. Stroll down quiet tree-lined streets to the Haihe River or the museums and galleries highlighting the city’s culture. Visit Tiantou Palace, one of only three remaining Mau temples in the world, home to the Museum of Tianjin. The city’s heritage is best experienced at Ancient Culture Street, with its century-old Chinese characters. Explore more than 100 shops featuring traditional cuisine, handicrafts, and folk art—a unique window into this modern city’s rich past.
