

Nafoura Lounge

The History of Shisha

Known as Hookah or Narghile (from the Persian word nargil, which means coconut) originated in Turkey over 500 years ago. The substances used in smoking a Shisha are most often called maassel or tobamel. These Shisha tobaccos are often mixed with dry, sweet flavored fruits or honey. It emits an extremely pleasant scent and taste for its users. To share a Shisha with someone is to show a great amount of respect for that person.
