Ocean Safety

1. NEVER SWIM ALONE. Use the buddy system and make sure you and your swimming companion are responsible for one another.

2. NEVER OR SWIM IN UNEXPLORED WATER. It may be too shallow for diving and you would be seriously injured if you hit the bottom of the ocean or pool. Before swimming or diving in unexplored water, ask any of our beach and pool attendants where it is safe to swim and dive.

3. STAY CLEAR of surfers, sailboards, and other water sports enthusiasts.

4. NEVER TURN YOUR BACK TO THE OCEAN. Waves comes in sets of small and large and patterns are never consistent.

5. NEVER LOSE EYE CONTACT WITH YOUR CHILDREN. Although attendants are stationed at the pool and beach, they cannot keep a constant watch over your children.

6. AVOID THE OCEAN if you are not in good physical condition.

7. NEVER SWIM IN ROUGH WATER when rip currents are most common. If you are caught in a rip current, do not fight it. Instead swim parallel to the beach until you escape the current, then make your way to shore.

8. THERE ARE NO TRAINED LIFEGUARDS at the pool or ocean. While our pool and beach attendants are not trained lifeguards, they are familiar with the conditions of the sea bed and the tidal conditions. Please observe all posted warnings and comply with their requests should you be asked not to enter the water or to leave the beach area completely.

9. SWIMMING OR SURFING IN WAVES, LARGE OR SMALL, CAN BE EXTREMELY DANGEROUS; even for the most experienced surfers. Traumatic injuries including spinal, neck and head injuries may result if you improperly swim or surf in the waves.

10. LARGE WAVES ORIGINATING FROM DEEP WATER CAN BREAK DIRECTLY ON ROCKY LEDGES. This can occur even when the water appears to be calm. Be cautious when walking along rocky coastlines when waves are breaking. Do not go into the wet rocky zone even if the ocean appears to be calm.

11. IF YOU DO NOT UNDERSTAND any posted sign, ask any beach and pool attendants to explain the sign before you enter the water.

YOU SHOULD NOT SWIM IN THE OCEAN IF A RED FLAG OR ANY OF THE FOLLOWING SIGNS ARE POSTED:

OUR BEACH ATTENDANTS WILL POST WARNING FLAGS WHEN HAZARDOUS OR POTENTIALLY HAZARDOUS OCEAN CONDITIONS EXIST.

 Red Flags indicate extremely dangerous conditions with high surf or high winds; beach guests should not use the ocean when posted.

 Yellow Flags indicate caution should be exercised and specific surf warnings posted.

 Red & Yellow Flags indicate hazardous conditions with moderate surf or high winds. Use caution with entering or using the ocean and check with Beach Attendants.

To avoid missing out on any activities, we strongly recommend reserving ahead of your stay. Our Concierge team is available exclusively for hotel guests.
